

COMPANY CREDIBILITY

With over 30 years experience in plumbing, heating and ventilation services, Charles McKee employs approximately 15 expert tradesmen along with sub-contract employees as demand requires. Our company ethos "big enough to cater, small enough to care" emphasizes our one-to-one approach to business. This is also evident through the strong relationships we have established with several of Northern Ireland's leading mechanical engineers, building contractors and architects. Centrally located within a one hour drive of Belfast, Enniskillen, Newry and the North West, Charles McKee is well positioned to service the Northern Ireland market.
